For some time they have suspected some of the clerks, and on Wealnesday morning Lawlor was known to lawe received $35 which he did not enter in the book. His movements were watched, and enough was soon revealed to charge him with large embezsiements. He was accordingly arrested, and lodged in the Tomba. He took the matter very coolly, professed his innoceance of the charge made against him, and signified his willingness to await the result of an investigation without any unendess whatever.

purpose of pointing to the sources, whence arise the difficulties, unfortunately too frequent of late years in the Diocese of Chicago, and already so productive of immense injury to the cause of religion, and the well being of the Church. He does this because his heart has been profoundly efficied as the evil results of these difficulties, results brought home to him in the daily walks of life, tanghle and castly seen by those, who, holding the position that he holds, are daily and hourly brought info contact therewith. Another motive for his thus addressing or incompatible with the discipline of the Chartes, may at once relieve the body of the Diocess, and the various congregations thereof, from the crifs above referred to. He will therefore proceed to direct your attention to the true sources of the evils, of which there is so general, and he may be permitted to say, so just a cause of complaint throughout the Diocese. They arise from various causes, which may be mentioned bereafter, but principally chich may be mentioned hereafter, but principally which may be mentioned nerestrer, any principally from the tenure, by which the inferior clergy, hold their position, and the manner in which the Bishop holds the title to the property of the Catholica of this Diocese, held and used for ecclessatical purposes. It is not, perhaps, generally known to the Laity, that the United States, motwithstanding the poses. It is not, perhaps, generally known to the Lairy, that the United States, notwithstanding the magnificent Cathedrais which adors many of her chief cities, the superb and palatial rasidences of many of her Bishops, of which you have an in-sance in the "Bushop's Palace" in Chicago; her colleges and educational establishments, vising with hose of older countries in the ability and talent gious establishments, all evidences of a strong and ealthy Catholic sentiment; it is not, perhaps, gencountry, and thus to a certain extent, reduced to a level with the Fejee Islands, or with the barbarous nations of South Africa and Bastern Asia. This, however, is done for certain purposes, chief among which is the retention of powers in the hands of our Bishops, anknown to the Bishops of the Conti-nent of Europe. It produces an alseence of restraint on the authority of Bishops over their Clergy, by which the latter are reduced to the level of the slaves of the South and model the many instruments. which the latter are reduced to the level of the slaves of the South, and made the more instruments of their will, tools in their hands to be used by them with a despotism of authority, not less than that of the Autocrat of all the Russias, or the lave owners of the South. Under this confliction of the Autocrat of all the Russias, or the lave owners of the South. Under this confliction to the source of th

Under this condition of things, the Priest is, to all lineats and purposes, the slave of the caprices of his Bishop, for be known that the Prelate to whom he may be subject; can at any moment, and without any reason, by a simple continuous of faculties, cast him upin the world, to seek a living us best he may, disgressed and deraded in the eyes of his fellow religionists, and rearded, on account of his religion, with ableast disset it not be said that he wan not do so without cause. No reasonable man. we admit, much less a Prelate in the Church of God, should act in such a reamer. But when hen are elevated to Epicopal dignity, who know nothing of society but what they have earned in the company of the aristocracy of Ire-and; who have never labored in the missions, and

This is no picture of fancy, but a sim-ple and trothful statement of facts, as the writer is the best means of knowing. Else why the storm? Why, that feeling of dissatisfaction which the writer has oft and again heard expressed by estimable members of the elerical body in good sanding, accompanied by the mest contexpision expressions of feeling toward their Bisbop? It is because these men feel that they are worse than slaves, obliged to cringe and crouch at the feet of a despot and autocrast, on whose not they are compelled to rely for their daily bread; because, like the oppressed to whom there is no other remedy, there is one consolation, that of rentire their feel the opposed to sum there is no other remedy, there is one consolation, that of renting their feelings in expressions of contempt for their oppressor. Such is not the state of affairs, in Continental Europe, despotically ruled as it is, where the Bishopa are controlled by Canon Law and immemorial usages.
